BIHAR CABINET'S THREAT TO QUIT OFFICE

Minister's Warning To People Of Province

LEAGUER DEMANDS INQUIRY INTO CAUSE OF RIOTS

Bengal Premier On Return Of Confidence In Noakhali

BEGUSARAI, November. 18. (U. P. I.): A threat that if the people of Bihar did not respond to the call of Congress leaders and cease fighting each other, the Congress Ministry would lay down Office, leaving the Province to be governed under Section 93, was issued by Mr. Ram Charitar Singh, Public Health Minister of Bihar, addressing a joint public meeting of Hindus and Muslims here on November 13 last.

The Minister said that it was a matter of shame that the military which was being maintained to oppose foreign aggression had to be called to suppress operation of one community against another. The happenings in Bengal and Bihar, he said, would strengthen the British propaganda that Indians would fight among themselves if the Britishers quit India.

Deploring the communal riots the Minister added that the Biharis had trampled with great sacrifices of Mahatma Gandni for the last 40 years by their acts. Noakhali, he said, could not be avenged by such methods.

"NEITHER AN ACCIDENT NOR MERE RIOT"

Leaguer On What He Saw In Bihar

CALCUTTA, Nov. 16, (A.P.I.): Mr. Choudhury Moazzem Hoosain (Laimia) M.L.C. Secretary, Muslim League Bihar Relief Coordination Committee in a statement on his return from Bihar after a ten days' tour says:—

"During my stay in Bihar I toured over five hundred miles in the interior villages of the districts of Patna, Monghyr and Bhagalpur and visited many villages and bustees worst affected by the recent communal outrages. The villages and bustees were found to be lying as dead practically all the houses being burnt to ashes. The worst affected village I saw appeared to me like war-ravaged tracks of land.

I visited many refugees camps both big and small. The refugees were in a miserable plight. They were mainly suffering from want of food and clothing. No arrangements for milk has been made for the children by the Government.

In many places large numbers of refugees have been housed together in small and unventilated rooms.

At Tarpur and Sultangunj Camps about 13,000 refugees have been stationed in the open field under the shades of trees.

As regards the total number of refugees at different centres in the Province, the published figure was an under-estimated. There were many refugees in private houses. According to my estimate the total number of refugees will be over a lakh.

Medical relief for the refugees and wounded is not at all satisfactory.

I should like to advise the Congress Ministry of Bihar to come out with the truth and face the reality. Instead of suppressing facts, they should rather find out the real causes of this terrible carnage and do their best to alleviate the condition of the sufferers. If the Government really intends to prove their Bona Fides they should at once set up an Inquiry Commission for the purpose.

In conclusion, the impression I got from my visit of Bihar is that the great massacre of Bihar was neither an accident nor a simple communal riot.

Bengal Premier's Appeal

RAMGANJ, November 18. (A.P.I.): The Chief Minister of Bengal, Mr. H S. Suhrawardy, had a two hours meeting with Gandhiji yesterday at which means for returning evacuees to their homes and regeneration of public confidence were discussed. It is learnt that the Bihar situation was also considered.

Earlier, addressing a large gathering at Ramganj, Mr. Suhrawardy said that confidence was returning in the area but to ensure more confidence further steps were necessary. He wanted them to start rebuilding huts and shelters with their own labour to enable those Hindus who had lost their homes, to return.

He wanted them also to assure Hindus that they might follow any religion they choose and to condemn forcible conversion. which was wholly un-Islamic. Instances of offences against women had been very rare indeed. But where such regrettable offences had occurred, reparation must be made. If there was any case of detention of a woman amongst them, she must be returned to their people, and more than that, the elders of each village must guarantee the safety and honour of every Hindu amongst them.

Referring to allegations of excesses by the Military and the polire, the Chief Minister said that they would be duly investigated and justice done.

Mahatma's Grim Determination

Will Die In Noakhali Unless Hindus And Muslims Became Brothers

KAZIRKHIL, Nov. 16 (API). Large numbers of Muslims again turned up to attend Gandhiji's prayer meeting which was also address by Mr. Abdul Gaffran, Minister for Agriculture today. He regretted the incidents during the disturbances and urged his Hindu brethren to return home where they were born and brought up. He also requested the Muslims to take them back. The absence of Muslims in prayer meeting, he explained was due to the fear that the police might arrest them. While emphasising that Government was sure to take action or punish the real culprits, he requested the Hindus not to implicate innocent people.

The presence of a large number of Muslims seemed to have pleased Gandhiji, as he said his words were mainly for them and he took longer time in addressing the meeting.

In spite of pre-winter monsoon weather, the meeting continued long after dusk. The huge crowd listened with rapt attention to the grim determination that Gandhiji's feeble voice expressed, that he would die in Noakhali unless Hindus and Muslims again became brothers.

Commons Questions On Indian Riots

LONDON, November 18. (Reuter) Lord Pethick Lawrence, Secretary of State for India, is not prepared to give the assurance asked for by Labour Member in the House of Commons today that the Government of India would not undertake bombing from the air against those areas where communal disorders occur.

Giving this fact, Mr. Arthur Henderson , Under-Secretary of State for India, said: "As Pandit Nehru is reported as having recently reminded the Indian Legislature, the Government of India may not interfere under the existing Constitution with Provincial Autonomy. Law and Order is a subject which is entirely within the field of provincial legislation and administration in India. If a Provincial Government were to ask the Government of India for assistance by bombing, the request could clearly be considered only in the light of circumstances which would obviously be most exceptional.

"Lord Pethick Lawrence, Secretary of State for India, is not prepared to give the assurance asked for. To do so on a hypothetical basis, would unwarrantably call in the question of the ability of the Government of India to deal wisely with the situation."

TOLL OF RIOTS IN INDIA

Prime Minister Clement Attlee told the House in reply to a question that 5,946 people were killed and 14,550 wounded in British India since June 29—nearly all in communal disturbances.

They exclude those in Bihar during the present month and those in Noakhali and Tipperah during October.

He said these casualities were due to civil disturbances exclusive of ordinary crimes. Seperate figures were not available for European casualties but he said they might safely be assumed to be very small indeed.

Mr. Attlee was replying to conservative Sir Waldron Smithers.

Sir Waldon further asked if the Prime Minister did not realise that owing to their policy, on the front Bench sat the really guilty men for this terrible loss of life.

Mr Atlee: No Sir, I regret to say that communal disturbances of this nature have occurred from time to time in India. They are all very deplorable but they have occurred under various Governments and I entirely reject Sir Waldron Smithers suggestions.

SLASHING ATTACK ON UNRRA

Commerce Member Withdraws Demand For Grant: Sardar's War On Bribery And Corruption: Constituent Assembly Bill Accepted By Assembly

Preparing For Meerut

NEW DELHI, Nov. 18 (API.) Preparatory discussion of subjects for the Meerut session of the Congress will begin at the meeting of the Working Committee due to be held tomorrow afternoon. Most of the members and invitees have arrived.

The communal situation in the country and amedments to the Congress Constitution will probably be among the topics for consideration.

Draft amendments to the Congress Constitution have been prepared by a Sub-Committee appointed for the purpose. These are understood to include the abolition of the four-anna primary membership; and a thorough overhaul of the whole body of rules so that instead of primary members electing the delegates to the annual session of the Congress as at present, units of 500 persons will elect a primary member and 400 such primary members will choose one delegate, who will also be as at present a member of the Provincial Congress Committee. Changes have been suggested in the method of election of the A.I.C.C., and it is proposed that plenary sessions of the Congress be held if the A.I.C.C. decides to hold them.

A suggestion has been made that approval of the amendments be obtained at the Meerut session, but that a year's time be taken to prepare the way for bringing the new Constitution into force.

Dr. Keskar, General Secretary, arrived in Delhi today from Meerut and called on Pandit Nehru and the President-elect, Acharya Kriplani.

No Postponement Of Congress Session

CONGRESS NAGAR, Meerut, Nov. 18 (APA): Dr. B. V. Keskar, the Congress Secretary, Sunday issued a statement setting at rest rumours and speculation that here might be a postponement of the Congress Session to be held this week.

He made the statement after learning of a current rumour that the Reception Committee had requested at least a month's postponement of the Congress Session.

Dr. Keskar said there was a general feeling amony Reception Committee members that if the Congress session is held a month hence, the disturbed atmosphere now prevailing in Meerut would clear up and the session would be "a grand success".

However, he said, improvement or no improvement, the session will be held as scheduled"

NEW DELHI, Nov. 18 (A.P.I.): In the Central Assembly today, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Home Member, introduced a bill for the more effective prevention of bribery and corruption.

The statement of objects and reasons says, "the scope for bribery and corruption of public servants had been enormously increased by war conditions and though the war is now over, opportunities for corrupt practices will remain for a considerable time to come. Contracts are being terminated, large amounts of Government surplus stores are being disposed of; there will be for some years shortages of various kinds requiring the imposition of controls; and extensive schemes of postwar reconstruction, involving the disbursement of very large sums of Government money. All these activities offer wide scope for corrupt practices and the seriousness of the evil and the possibility of its continuance or extension in the future are such as to justify immediate and drastic action to stamp it out. The existing law has proved inadequate for dealing with the problem which has arisen in recent years, and the bill is intended to render the criminal law more effective in dealing with cases of bribery and corruption of public servants."

Mr. G. S. Bhalja, Defence Secretary, announced that as the Select Committee had made important changes in the requisitioned land (continuance of powers) bill, Government wished to have time to appreciate the full implications of these changes and he would, therefore, not move the bill during the present session. The House passed the Commerce Member's Bill further to amend the Indian Tea Control Act 1938, and the Bill to amend the registration of transferred companies Ordinance 1942.

As regards the Bill to amend the registration of transferred companies ordinance, Mr. Chundrigar said that the Ordinance was promulgated with a view to permitting companies from different parts of the empire who had to leave their countries of origin owing to war conditions to function effectively by transfer to India. These companies were now seeking registration in the country of their origin, and the Bill would remove the difficulties that lay in their way.

The Bill would give Government sufficient powers to see that all their commitments to the people of India and others would be fully satisfied before the registrations in India were cancelled.

GOVT. BOWS TO PUBLIC OPINION

The Commerce Member Mr. I. I. Chundrigar moved for approval for payment to UNRRA of Rs. two crores, for which a supplementary grant had been voted by the House in April this year.

Mr. Manu Subedar and Mr. A. R. Siddiqui criticised the proposal for further payments to an organisation, which, in their opinion, had not helped India in her hour of need, particularly during the famine. They said that unless there was a definite and irrevocable commitment, India should not make any more payments.

Diwan Chaman Lall: UNRRA has been competing with India in the matter of procurement of food, making it more difficult for India to procure food.

Mr. Chundrigar: This is an old con

INDIAN MADE LOCOMOTIVES

Huge Production Within 3 Years, Says Asaf Ali

NEW DELHI, Nov. 18 (A.P.I.): Mr. Asaf Ali, Railway Member, announced during discussion on railway supplementary demands in the Assembly today that Mr. K. C. Neogy, whom he described as one of the most experienced members of the House, had been chosen Chairman of the High Power Committee appointed mainly to make suggestions for economy in railway expenditure.

As regards the manufacture of locomotives, he expressed the hope that the bulk of our locomotive requirements would be produced in India within three years from now. Government had taken definite steps to accelerate the programme for the production of locomotives in India and preliminary steps were already in progress. The period of three years might appear to be somewhat lengthy but the House should not forget that gigantic works of construction would have to be taken in hand.

PRINCES TO PARTICIPATE IN CONSTITUTION MAKING

NEW DELHI, Nov. 18 (A.P.I.): Announcement of the Negotiating Committee which will represent India's Princely States in the Constituent Assembly and an official statement that the Chamber of Princes will participate in Constitution Making are expected to highlight the current series of meetings of Princes and their Ministers in Delhi.

Although the ten-man Negotiating Committee is not expected to be disclosed for several days, it is reliably reported the members will include:

The Nawab of Bhopal, Chancellor of the Chamber of Princes; the Jam Saheb of Nawanagar; the Maharajah of Dungarpur; Sir C. P. Ramaswami Aiyer, Dewan of Travancore; Sir Ramaswamy Mudaliar, Dewan of Mysore; Sir Sultan Ahmed, Constitutional Adviser to the Chamber of Princes; Sardar K. M. Panikkar of Bikaner; Sir Mirza Ismail, Prime Minister of Hyderabad; and Sardar D. K. Sen Chairman of the Committee of Ministers, and until recently Chief Minister of Cooch-Behar.

At today's meeting of the Constitutional Advisory Committee, there was considerable detailed discussion about powers and functions of the Negotiating Committee and the proposed Consultative Committee. The Consultative Committee would discuss at regular intervals with various Departments of the Interim Government matters of common concern to British India and the Indian States.

The Nawab of Bhopal reviewed today the constitutional developments since the last meeting in Bombay during June—when the Chamber "approved" the British Cabinet Mission plan—and outlined steps already taken toward setting up the Negotiating and Consultative Committees.

The Constitutional Advisory Committee will continue its deliberations tomorrow, with the Ministers meeting on Wednesday and the Princes on Thursday.

Indonesian Republic Recognised By Dutch

AGREEMENT ON FORMATION OF UNITED STATES

Joint Secretariat To Work Out Administrative Plans

BATAVIA, November 18. (Reuter): The Dutch Government recognised the Indonesian Republican Government as "de facto exercising power in Java, Madura and Sumatra" under the draft agreement reached between the Dutch and Indonesian delegates at the meeting on Friday it was announced today.

A United States of Indonesia comprising the entire territory of the Dutch East Indies is to be formed as a "Sovereign State on a Federal Basis".

TEXT OF AGREEMENT

The text of the agreement said:

"The Netherlands and Indonesian delegations in their meeting of November 15, 1946, reached a common understanding on the following draft agreement of which in confirmation thereof they have initialled both Netherlands and Indonesian texts in triplicate.

PREAMBLE: The Netherlands Government represented by the Commission-General and the Government of the Republic of Indonesia, represented by the Indonesian Delegation, moved by a sincere desire to ensure good relations between the peoples of the Netherlands and Indonesia in new forms of voluntary co-operation which offer the best guarantee for sound and strong development of both countries in future and which will make it possible to give a new foundation to the relationship between the two peoples agree as follows and will submit this agreement at the shortest possible notice to the approval of their respective parliaments:

REPUBLIC RECOGNISED

ARTICLE ONE: The Netherlands Government recognises the Government of the Republic of Indonesia as exercising 'de facto' authority over Java, Madura and Sumatra. The areas occupied by Allied or Netherlands forces shall be included gradually through mutual co-operation in the Republican territory. To this end, necessary measures shall at once be taken in order that this inclusion shall be completed at the latest on the date mentioned in Article 12.

ARTICLE TWO: The Netherlands Government and the Government of the Republic shall co-operate in the rapid formation of a Sovereign Democratic State on a federal basis to be called the United States of Indonesia.

ARTICLE THREE: The United States of Indonesia shall comprise the entire territory of the Netherlands East Indies with a proviso, however that in case the population of any territory, after due consultation with other territories, should decide by a

NEW DELHI, November 18. (A.P.I.): Mr. M. A. Jinnah is expected to meet the Viceroy tomorrow afternoon.

Another Syed Supporter Falls Prey

Hit By Bullet From Leaguer's Revolver

KARACHI, Nov. 18. (A. P. I.):—News has been received here from Dadu of the death due to bullet wound of Syed Muradalishah, a supporter of Mr. G. M. Syed, yesterday at his village near Shewan. It appears some Muslim League workers had proceeded to the village of Muradalishah to discuss with him certain election matters. As they were talking a bullet from a loaded revolver, held by one of the League party, suddenly went off, fatally hitting Syed Muradalishah. On receipt of the news, the Revenue Minister Pir Illahi Bux who was then at Dadu proceeded to the village of Muradalishah accompanied by the District Police Superintendent.

BAN ON WEAPONS IN SYED'S CONSTITUENCY

The District Magistrate of Dadu has under Sec. 144 C. Pr. C. banned the carrying of weapons in the constituency of Mr. G. M. Syed during election period.

Franco-Siamese Agreement

LONDON, Nov. 18 (Reuter). France and Siam signed an agreement in Washington last night, under which Siam will evacuate the disputed territories of Indo-China by the middle of next month and Siam will withdraw her complaints about frontier incidents and France cease to oppose Siam's candidature for membership of the United Nations.

The agreement came into force immediately after its signature last night, a French official spokesman announced in London today.

The territories which Siam will evacuate are those she entered as a result of the Convention of Tokyo signed with Japan in May 1941.

Siamese complaints of frontiers incidents were submitted to the Security Council of the United Nations last summer.

Trusteeship Administration

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 18 (U.P.A.): Indian delegate Sir Maharaj Singh, speaking before the Trusteeship Committee today, formally demanded United Nations administering authority for all trusteeship agreements, both strategic and non-strategic, to avoid abuse under single power rule.

Singh said, "The experience of countries under foreign rule clearly demonstrates that the administering nation is slow to recognize the ability of dependent people to govern themselves and therefore delays independence."

The Singh demand came during consideration of New Zealand's proposed draft trusteeship of Western Samoa which is a test case to facilitate discussions of other drafts.

New Zealander Sir Carl Berendsen rejected any doubts about New Zealand's attitude towards trusted peoples and demanded prompt discussion of the Indian proposal.

Role Of Maravars In Netaji's Army

The Second anniversary of the Bombay Maravar Mahajana Sangam was held on Sunday the 17th inst. at the S. I. E. S. Hall Matunga when Mr. S. A. Iyer, Director of Publicity of the Government of Bombay presided. Mr. K. T. Thevar, President of the Sangam in welcoming the distinguished guests briefly related the various activities of the Sangam in promoting the welfare of the Maravar community in Bombay.

In an illuminating address, the President appealed to the audience to discard all internal or sectional differences and rise above their community and strive for the good of the whole nation. He made reference to the meritorious services rendered by two girls of Maravar community in the Indian National Army under Subhas Bose.

Mr. K. Srinivasan, Editor National Standard speaking next traced the historic back ground of how the nomenclature 'Marawars' came into being and said that belonged to the martial class in Tamil Nad and whose warlike qualities are recognised even to this day.

6 Months' R. I. For Being Found With Table Knife

BOMBAY, Monday.

Mr. J. M. Barot, Presidency Magistrate, Esplanade Police Court, today sentenced Dhanji Joshi, a coolie, to undergo six months' R. I. for carrying a table knife at De Lisle Road on November 4.

A SHOPPING INCIDENT

Members of a family went to a cloth shop at Chowpatty on Sunday in the pretext of purchasing sarees. While the manager of the shop was showing them the sarees one of the ladies, is alleged to have concealed on them in her burkha. When they were leaving the shop the proprietor who had noticed the woman hiding the saree, stopped her and called a police constable. On search the saree was found on her person and she along with two others were arrested.

Today they were produced before Mr. K. C. Thakore, Presidency Magistrate at the Girgaum Police Court who allowed them bail.

ALLEGED RAPE

The Agripada Police have arrested a young man on a charge of committing rape on a minor girl.

It appears the young man bodily carried an 8 year old girl to a lonely place and there under the threat of knife committed the offence. He then left her there with a warning that she should not inform anybody. And if she did she would be killed.

The girl after two days of the incident informed her parents who reported the matter to the police and the accused was arrested. He was remanded to Police custody at Girgaum Police Court today.

THE RAMAKRISHNA MISSION

Riot Relief Work In Noakhali And Tipperah

Swami Sambuddhananda writes:—

Immediately after their arrival at Chandpur, the Ramakrishna Mission Workers took charge of two refugee camps and started feeding about 1,500 persons and giving dry doles to another 1,500 daily, besides attending to their other needs as far as possible.

Government supplies of dry doles having been stopped, the mission is distributing foodstuffs daily to about 1,100 refugees and giving pecuniary help to several.

The mission workers have visited some of the worst affected areas like Haimchar, Hanarchar, Karaituli, in Tipperah district, and have decided to start a relief centre immediately at Haimchar, a pretty large area with a population of about 20,000. Later, if circumstances permit, another centre will be opened in Ramganj, one of the most affected areas in Noakhali district.

The work on hand including that of rehabilitation is a stupendous one and calls for enormous funds. Any contribution in cash or kind sent to: (1) Ramakrishna Mission, Khar, Bombay ('phone 88042), (2) Calcutta National Bank, Sir Phirozeshah Mehta Road, Fort, Bombay, or (3) The Bengal Central Bank, Churchgate Street, Opp. Elphinstone Circle, Bombay.

PUBLIC SERVICES IN SIND

Move For Separate Commission

(From Our Correspondent)

KARACHI, Nov. 18.

The Government of Sind is considering to set up a separate Public Services Commission for Sind.

At present there is a joint Public Services Commission for the provinces of Bombay and Sind, and by the appointment of separate Commission for the Province of Sind, one of the few remembrances of the affiliation of Sind with the Bombay Presidency in the past will vanish.

PLEA FOR JT. COMMISSION

There is also a proposal that instead of setting up a separate Commission for Sind, a joint Commission for the three, provinces (grouped as B by the Cabinet Mission award) i.e., the Punjab, North West Frontier Province and Sind may be set up, since there already exists a joint Commission for the provinces of the Punjab and the N.W.F.P.

MATUNGA WORKSHOP STRIKE

Mr. Dinkar Desai, General Secretary of the Bombay Provincial Trade Union Congress, has issued the following statement:—

The workers in the Matunga Workshop of the G. I. P. Railway are on strike from the 28th October in support of Com. Virendra Singh who has been discharged from service vindictively. The demand of the workers is that the victimised worker should be re-insteaded. That this demand is reasonable will have to be admitted by one and all.

I learn that the General Manager, G. I. P. Railway, has issued a notice that those who wish to resume work should give an declaration to the effect that they agree to resume work unconditionally. This declaration must be signed and work resumed any day, but not later than 8 hours on 18th November. Those workers who would not sign the declaration will not be permitted to enter the workshop and if they do not resume work by 8 hours on 30th November, they shall be liable to be removed from service. Thus, the General Manager, instead of re-instating the victimised worker, has threatened that those workers who fight against victimisation will also be victimised. I strongly protest against this unjust attitude of the General Manager.

While congratulating the strikers on their peaceful behaviour, I, on behalf of the Bombay Provincial Trade Union Congress, demand unconditionally the re-instatement of the victimised worker and condemn the action of the Railway authorities in calling police inside the workshop.

MATUNGA GYMKHANA

Suit Against Managing Committee

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bhagwati)

Chunilal K. Sanghani .... Plaintiff

vs.

Velji Lakhamsey Napoo and Others ..... Defendants

Defendants 2 to 11 are members of the Managing Committee of the Hindu Gymkhana North, at Matunga. The first defendant was its President. The plaintiff took out this notice of motion for an injunction restraining defendants 2 to 11 from performing the functions and exercising the powers of the Managing Committee of that gymkhana. On March 3, 1946 defendants 2 to 11 were elected members of the Managing Committee for the year ending June 30, 1946. Subsequently another resolution was passed and confirmed at a general meeting that the same Managing Committee was to continue to hold office till June 30, 1947. The plaintiff, a member and a trustee of the gymkhana, contended that this resolution was ultra vires and illegal and that defendants 2 to 11 were not validly appointed for the year 1946-47. The defendants contended that the matter was one of internal management in which the Court should not interfere, and that in anv event there was no rule that a Managing Committee could not be appointed for more than a year.

His lordship ordered the notice of motion to stand over to the hearing of the suit which was fixed for 14th January 1947.

Mr. S. Baptista instructed by Messrs. Minocher Manchershah Hiralal & Co. appeared for the plaintiff in support of the motion.

Mr. M. C. Setalvad and Mr. M. P. Laud instructed by Messrs. Khanderao Laud & Co. appeared for defendants 2 to 11 to oppose it.

OBJECTS & PROSPECTS.

India of today is gripped with the desire to be self-sufficient.

With Japan laid low with defeat and her entire industrial machine crippled, India which was one of her main consumers of printed cotton and silk fabrics, has to look for other avenues to clothe her teeming millions. The Indian Textile Industry and its auxiliaries which have already covered their infancy periods, are on the march. Within recent months there have been ambitious new floatations, in the line, to fill the vacuum caused by the cessation of imports from Japan, and an ever widening stream of capital has flown into these new ventures.

The Company has been established to work in conjunction with the textile mills and to undertake Bleaching, Dyeing, Printing, Mercerising of cotton and silk goods and for the other purposes specified in the Memorandum of Association.

WITH THAT OBJECT IN VIEW, IT IS PROPOSED TO INSTAL AN UP-TO-DATE PRINTING & DYEING MILL IN BOMBAY AND IN DUE COURSE TO ERECT A SILK WEAVING UNIT OF ITS OWN.

It is also proposed to have their own dyes department for the import of dyes from abroad. Negotiations with well-known dyes manufacturers are already under way, and final arrangements will be completed as early as possible. The Company will also set up its own mixing plant very shortly.

Bombay has always formed the vanguard of the textile industry in India. It possesses a chain of cotton and silk mills and is well on its way to become the Osaka of India. It is estimated that Bombay with its traditions of a textile metropolis will provide enough work which will keep the machineries of the company working all the year round.

There is an ever-increasing demand for distinctive fabrics and the company products will satisfy in a great measure, this modern urge. By virtue of the strategic position India occupies, and with the elimination of Japan as a competitor, the requirements, in fine cloth, of the neighbouring countries of Mid-East & Near-East will also be met by exports from India.

The company is fortunate in having acquired the expert services of Mr. Anant Ram Dhawan, F.D. (Punjab), T.C. (K.C.T.) Japan; Dyeing & Printing Expert, who will look to the erection of the mill and be in constant supervision of the working of the mill.

His experience extends over a period of ten years and has been gained by working in similar enterprises in foreign countries and in India.

MARGIN OF PROFIT

Margin of profits in Bleaching, Dyeing & Printing varies with the market conditions and market prices of raw materials. But the charges for Bleaching, Dyeing & Printing are fixed by the Government. Proms in Bleaching & Dyeing have been worked below on the basis of eight hours working for one day.

PROFIT IN BLEACHING & FINISHING

EXPENSES. Cost of bleaching 8000/9 lbs. of cloth at -/-/7 per pound .. about Rs. 33/-
Labour .. Rs. 30/-
Miscellaneous expenses .. Rs. 15/-
Total Rs. 78/-
Charges per 8000/9 of cloth including Back-filing at -/5/- per pound .. Rs. 277/-
approximately.
Saving Daily .. Rs. 199/-

PROFITS IN DYEING.

Cost of Dyeing per 8000/3 lbs. of cloth at Rs. 12/- per 1000/3 lbs. .. Rs. 96/-
Labour .. Rs. 30/-
Miscellaneous expenses .. Rs. 35/-
Rs. 161/-
Charges per 8000/3 lbs. of cloth at 50½ pies per lb. Rs. 700/-
approximately.
Saving Daily .. Rs. 539

Note: The Company hopes to put up a special plant for Dyeing Aniline Black.

PROFITS IN PRINTING.

Cost of printing 15,000 yds. of cloth at -/2/- per yd. (Single colour printing) Rs. 1875/-
Miscellaneous expenses Rs. 80/-
Rs. 1955/-
Charges per 15,000 yds. at 28½ pies per yard .. Rs. 2225/-
approximately.
Saving Daily .. Rs. 270/-

TOTAL PROFITS IN ONE MONTH.

Considering 24 working days in a month at one shift per day the total gross profit for Bleaching, Dyeing & Printing amounts to Rs. 24,000/-. Out of these proceeds, if Rs. 8,000/- per month are reserved for meeting establishment, commissions, interests on invested capital and other unforeseen expenses, even then the company is expected to save at least Rs. 16,000/- per month.

The above profits are calculated on one working shift of eight hours daily. When the shift is doubled, the profits are bound to increase enormously.

MANAGEMENT

Messrs. Dhawan Brothers, New Delhi, with Mr. A. R. Dhawan and Mr. Anant Ram Dhawan as partners have been appointed as the Managing Agents for the Company for a period of 20 years. They will be paid an office allowance of Rs. 750/- per mensem with an increment as the Board determines from time to time; (b) a commission of 10 per cent on the net yearly profits of the Company. THE MANAGING AGENTS HAVE AGREED NOT TO CHARGE THE ABOVE REMUNERATION TILL THE MILL STARTS WORKING.

UNDERWRITING

The Company may at any time pay brokerage or underwriting commission to any person in consideration of his subscribing or procuring or agreeing to procure subscription for any shares of the Company and the Directors may fix any amount as such brokerage or commission provided however that the amount of rate of commission shall not exceed 2 per cent of the face value of the shares.

CONVICTION UNDER PLAGUE REGULATIONS

A Belgaum correspondent writes:—"While inoculations against plague were being performed at Borgaon, a village in Chikodi Taluka of the Belgaum District, the owner of a family refused to get himself and his family members inoculated and hence Rao Saheb M. P. Wali, Chief Officer, District Local Board, and the Plague Authority, Belgaum District, lodged a complaint against him in the Resident Magistrate's Court Chikodi, under the provisions of Plague Regulations. The Magistrate convicted the accused with a fine of Rs. 50/-."

BOMBAY STUDENTS' CONGRESS: The General Secretary of the North Bombay Students' Congress writes to us to say that the recent general strike of the students of the North Bombay was intended to express the students' sympathy with the demands of the teachers of the Indian Education Society, Dadar, for increments in their salaries and to protest against the general increments in the fees of the students of the schools run by the Society—and not, as reported in some local newspapers, in opposition to the demand of the teachers for increase in their salaries. The students' Congress is against the closing down of the institutions and appeals to the Education Minister to intervene in the dispute.

PLANT INSTITUTE

REORGANISATION OF THE PREMIER RESEARCH INSTITUTE OF CENTRAL INDIA, INDORE

Prime Minister Raja Gyan Nath's Address

INDORE, Nov. 12.

"I regard this occasion a very happy one, for we all know that very recently we have received, amid great rejoicings, the very happy news of His Highness's complete recovery. My Master, His Highness the Maharaja has passed through terrible trouble and suffering and it is a matter of great thanksgiving to the Almighty that His Highness's illness has yielded to expert medical and surgical treatment," said Raja Gyan Nath, Prime Minister of Indore, proposing the health of His Highness the Maharaja at a Dinner given on behalf of His Highness's Government to the Governing Body and General Council of the Plant Institute, Indore on November 9, 1946. Proceeding further, the Prime Minister pointed out that His Highness's Government had been consistently helping the Plant Institute in its growth from its very inception. He referred to the liberal help His Highness's Government had given both in the way of providing extensive areas of land and substantial annual contributions. He referred to the recent starting of a Diploma Course in Agriculture Science and drew the attention of the Members to the large part played by His Highness's Goverament in bringing into existence this new Institution.

H. H. HOLKAR OF INDORE

"Adequate financial support was also pledged on behalf of His Highness's Government, and it was indeed gratifying to find that the initiative which was taken by His Highness's Government invoked a very ready response from the Member States and with their help and the assistance rendered by the Indian Central Cotton Committee it has been possible to give practical effect to the Scheme which is now an accomplished fact to-day."

The Prime Minister expressed his sense of gratefulness to Sir Walter Campbell, Resident for Central India, who provided the necessary co-ordinating influence and who very readily came forward to arrange for the sale of the extensive buildings occupied until recently by the Indian States Forces Training School. His Highness's Government on their part, apart from other financial commitments, had given a loan of Rs. one lac free of interest.

The Prime Minister then thanked Sir Chunilal and other Members of the Indian Central Cotton Committee for the active support that they gave to this Re-organisation Scheme and for the financial assistance on a contributory basis, that was offered to this Institute from the Indian Central Cotton Fund.

Referring to the various development Schemes of the State, the Prime Minister drew pointed attention to the proposed establishment of a first class Hospital and a Medical College.

"We have now been told by experts and by the Director-General of Medical Services in India that what is now required is a would be Rs. 60 lacs. The Scheme has been taken in hand and I feel that with this Diploma Course in Agriculture which in fullness of time, we hope, would grow into a Degree College in Agriculture and the Medical College, other Institutions will similarly spring up in this land which will all fit in with the Post-War efforts of this region and which would radiate their usefulness in different directions and help in the uplift of the people and in improving the standard of their living."

Continuing, the Prime Minister observed that with these two new institutions and with the existing two teaching Colleges, there was already in Indore a nucleus of a University for Central India.

The Prime Minister said that His Highness's Government would always be willing to take the lead as they had done in the past in all matters intended to serve the best interests of Central India.

MOVE FOR CIVIL COURT IN CITY

Advocates Welcome Govt. Decision

It was reported some time back that the Provincial Government had decided to establish a City Civil Court in Bombay at an early date to try cases of small value and that Mr. Lad, a senior District Judge, had been deputed to frame a scheme for a Civil Court as well as a Sessions Court. Several lawyers practising on the Original Side of the High Court have expressed an adverse opinion, while advocates of the Appellate Side and the Small Causes Court welcome the proposal as giving relief to the poorer class of litigants and assert that the proposed measure has been long overdue.

At a meeting held on Saturday last under the auspices of the Advocates' Association of Western India (High Court), Bombay Advocates' Association (Small Causes Court) and the Police Courts' Bar Association a resolution was adopted welcoming the proposal of Government to establish a City Civil Court and a separate Sessions Court in Greaerter Bombay and a Committee consisting of three representatives of each Association was appointed to take such steps as may be necessary to counteract the propaganda carried on by interested people and to make suggestions with regard to the matters in which the City Civil Court should have jurisdiction. Mr. G. P. Murdeshwar, President of the Advocates' Association of Western India was elected the Chairman of the Committee and Messrs. D. S. Deodhar and K. S. Daundkar were appointed as Secretaries.

It is understood that the Committee has already met and will recommend to Government that suits of a Civil nature not exceeding Rs. 25,000 in value except those cognisable by the Small Causes Court and proceedings under the Succession Act and Insolvency Act should be made cognisable by the proposed City Court.

Indo-Australian Relations

Bombay Mayor's Hope Of Mutual Assistance

BOMBAY, Monday.

Welcoming the members of the Australian Industrialists' Delegation at a reception accorded by the Municipal Corporation this evening at the Corporation Hall Mr. Mohamed Nowjee, the Mayor of Bombay, said:

Let us hope that the cordial relations between our two countries will be fostered in future and the ties which bind us together will be closer and lasting to the mutual good of the two countries.

He added: "Australia produces surpluses of what is badly needed in India, particularly food, and that the Indian textile industry, if properly expanded, is capable of expansion so as to meet the demands of your continent. In fact we are complementary in the matter of two essentials of human existence, namely, food and dress, and if each assisted the other, as I hope they will do, India should be better fed and Australia adequately clad.

The Delegation consists of Mr. S. Meecham, Leader, and Mr. E. P. Simpson, Mr. P. W. Kemp, Mr. C. S. Tanner, Mr. A. Spark and Mr. H. Grose representing the industrial and commercial interests of Australia.

Replying to the Mayor's address, Mr. Meecham Leader of the Delegation said that they were accorded cordial reception everywhere in the country and especially and Press had shown the great sympathy.

Continuing he said that they had observed what was taking place in India, what the people were attempting to do and what they were inclined to do for the future of their country.

Concluding he remarked that India and Australia should occasionally exchange delegates so that they could understand each other's point of views.

In this connection he referred to the excellent work done by the Indian Women's delegates who were in Australia recently and paid a compliment As the ability with which Miss Kapila Khandwala presented the Indian Women.

Archaeological Find

An image of Hindu God Vishnu measuring 32 ft. in length, was discovered recently by Mr. P. Acharya, State Archaeologist, Mayurbhanj during his visit to Talcher. The image has been carved out of rock in the bed of the river Brahmani on the opposite side of Talcher on the border of Dhenkanal. Mr. Acharya is of opinion that the image is the biggest of its kind in Orissa and its date is assigned to the 9th o 10th century A. D.

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Those who would be happy must cease to seek happiness and ask only the privilege of giving The song will rise in our hearts when we cease to live for ourselves and begin to live for the good we can do.

The Bombay Chronicle

A PROMISING SESSION

The short autumn session of the Central Legislative Assembly which ended yesterday has been indicative of three welcome features. The Interim Government has, after all, functioned fairly as a team. The attention of legislators has been directed to matters of nation-building importance, and the third and by no means the last important feature has been the willingness of the House, as a whole, to assist the authorities in the measures they contemplate to secure a firmer establishment of law and order. There is an awakening amongst the masses. There is also increasing poverty due to the higher cost of living, the aftermath of years of war. A calmer study of the present deplorable communal tension will convince the impartial observer that much of the excitement leading to murder and arson is due to the distressing fact that a large volume of our countrymen do not have the wherewithal to eke out an existence and are apt to take a desperate view of the situation. Responsible opinon, as voiced in the Press and on the platform, takes due note of this unfortunate fact. It was echoed in the attitude of the Assembly towards the Interim Government's endeavour to secure amelioration of the masses through legislative means. The social side of this amalioration, in so far as it affects the Hindu community was stressed by Dr. Deshmukh who secured the passage of one measure and managed to put on the legislative anvil another. Both of these measures will go a long way in demolishing the ramparts of Hindu orthodoxy.

Rajaji's brilliant exposition of the Central Government's educational policy and Babu Rajendra Prasad's calm and matter of fact narration of the food situation in India stood out as eloquent examples of the manner in which the new Government desired to shape a new policy. Nor should we forget to pay a tribute to the new Finance Member, Mr. Liaqat Ali for his matter-of-fact explanation of the Interim Government's financial policy. His explanation of the miserable legacy from the bureaucratic past is sure to be much appreciated. It was feared that on his making a supplementary demand for about Rs. 18 lakhs under the head Constituent Assembly there would be much opposition to it by several Muslim League members. One of them, Mr. Tamizuddin Khan had actually tabled four cut motions which sought 'inter alia' to discuss "the legal basis and validity of the Constituent Assembly" and the "inadvisability of calling the session of the Constituent Assembly without ensuring the basis of cooperation between the major political parties in the country in giving effect to the proposals of the British Cabinet Mission". Presumably these motions were tabled with the previous knowledge of Mr. Liaqat Ali Khan, who is still General Secretary of the League. But when the demand for the grant was actually made Mr. Tamizuddin was not in the House nor did other members of the League raise any opposition. So the motion for the grant was passed without the least difficulty, thanks presumably, to the efforts of the Finance member himself. It appears that the main question about the Constituent Assembly now is not whether it should be held according to the Cabinet Mission's plan—that point is settled by the acceptance of the plan by all the parties in the Interim Government as a condition precedent to their joining the Government. The question rather is when the Constituent Assembly should begin and the suggestion by some is that either its inauguration should be slightly postponed or special efforts should be made to bring about more cordial relations between the major parties with a view to the complete success of the Assembly. There is reason to hope that such efforts will continue to be made and that the Constituent Assembly will itself provide special occasions for these efforts.

There is another important matter to which we would like to draw the urgent attention of the new Government. That Government has before it many plans in the industrial field. Of plans and planners there has been, indeed, a plethora. Let it take up the most practical ones and immediately set them in operation. The department of Works, Power and Mines can, we are confident, set up machinery in operation which will provide sustenance to a million and a half of Indian labourers. Of the ten engineering projects contemplated, even if three are commenced, particularly the Damodar Valley project, it will bring relief to a large volume of hungry ryots, especially in an area where such assistance is eminently required. How to feed the hungry is a problem which deserves the urgent attention of the new Government as much as the vexing problem of how to secure law and order.

Frankly Speaking

Burma's National Day

Yesterday, Monday, was Burma's "National Day". It is commemoration of the country-wide student strike of 1920, which is regarded by Burmans as "the first step in the freedom struggle". Since 1920 the freedom movement has passed through many vicissitudes and endured many trials. There was a long drawn struggle grim, if not bitter, with British Imperialism for decades. Then in the midst of this struggle came the Japanese war. Patriotic Burmans thought at first that the success of the Japs heralded their liberation. When disillusionment came Burma struggled against the Japs with the same patriotic determination. The end of the war brought with it the challenge of returning British Imperialism. But patriotic Burma stood up against it, so that today that country and its people are, under the leadership of U Aung Saug, on the threshold of their freedom. There are difficulties yet but the final triumph cannot be long delayed. This year's "National Day" fete has, therefore, had a new significance for Burma India shares in the rejoicing by her neighbour and sincerely wishes Burma a free and prosperous future.

A Dead Age

Decades ago, British Imperialists at "Home" and in India used to jabber a lot of nonsense about the loyalty of the Indian masses and their passionate desire for pax Britannia under the Ma-Bap rule of the British civilians in India and the blessings of the Supreme bosses in Britain. The poor Indian, it was alleged, asked nothing more of life, also nothing less. That mythical age passed away long ago. The Britisher realised at last that his solemn and naive claims fooled no one and only succeeded in making himself look rather ridiculous. He eventually gave up that line of silly talk and most of them would feel uncomfortable now at the mere idea of that argument being mentioned. The proof of it is that the few survivors from the "Rule Britannia" period, a Winston Churchill for instance, embarrass their own friends if and when they let themselves go.

Ridiculous Portuguese Propaganda

Portuguese Imperialists, however, have learnt nothing and lack the sense of realism of British fellow-Imperialists, to say nothing of sensibility. The result is the egregious simplicity of their propagandists, who are desperately anxious to prove that all is well with Portuguese Goa and the Goanese. Their Director of Information in Goa, undertaking to correct "propaganda in the Indian press regarding the political situation in Goa", has sought to assure the world that the Goanese are an entirely contended lot interested deeply in, but in nothing more than, "continuing to live in peace and tranquillity". The world of today will receive this solemn assurance with a guffaw and, at best, recall the ostrich or the frog-in-the-well. But, more seriously, the world would cite the desire for peace and tranquility in, say Abyssinia under Mussolini's Fascism and, indeed, in the present Portugual under Dr. Salazar. The Portuguese propagandist has sought to stagger the world with another and even bigger fact, namely, that Portuguese and Goanese are all one, with equal rights every where, which is obviously ludicrous. How many Goanese have occupied the "highest posts" in the Government Cabinet and Army in Portugal and what are those posts? The Goanese Government Director of Information should try to do better than merely entertain and amuse the world.

OUR READERS' VIEWS

"Off My Chest"

Sir,—Mr. Wadia has characterised the column of Mr. D. F. Karaka "Of My Chest" as a puerile piffle, but his criticism, if not equally, is more so. His reference to an eight-anna dictionary and Imperial Chrysler are but two examples. He questions Mr. Karaka on which day he donned the sword and roamed the affected areas? Mr. Wadia is right, but he seems to forget that some men serve the country with the sword and others with the pen, and especially when the swords are banned and non-violence is the golden rule of the day, pen might bring a better harvest than the proverbial sword.

The other gentleman, Mr. C. R. Nair, complains that Mr. Karaka swallows up space in spite of the paper shortage, if he feels so much, the best thing for him would have been to withhold his criticism to save space. Further on he laments the dearth of reading materials during these days. Does he forget how many daily papers are there, how many books are daily coming out, and how many magazines waste their literary fragrance in the Petit and the Royal Asiatic libraries?

I don't for a moment mean to maintain that Mr. Karaka is above fault or criticism. Life is too full of serious and head-aching things, to relieve the monotony there must be something light and comic, something to scintillate us, some light on the private affairs of great personalities.

The Curfew

Sir,—The riot situation in the city has by now so much changed for the better that it is not enough to reduce the curfew hours to 9 p. m. to 6 a. m. Even these hours impose avoidable inconvenience on people who need to visit restaurants and hotels and on sick men seeking medical aid. If the curfew is absolutely necessary, it should be only from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. Such reduced hours will bring confidence to the public that the situation is eased and thus help to restore peace.

CHAMPAKLAL T. MEHTA.

Naturalisation Of Foreigners

Sir,—I have read Mr. A. Leiser's view on the naturalization of foreigners which he consider as one of the MAJOR PROBLEMS confronting the country. I think when all Indians have food, shelter and jobs, THINGS WHICH I CONSIDER THE MAJOR PROBLEMS OF THE COUNTRY, the refugees have a right to ask that the country may think of them and their contemplated naturalization. I think that nobody has anything against their naturalisation as INDIAN CITIZENS provided they did not play the white Herrenvolk and superior race in bygone days.

But I think, when this point is checked most of the applicants for "BRITISH" citizenship in India will be found wanting. A great majority of them srove, whilst living as refugees in India, to be connected socially with Englishmen ONLY. Indians were regarded as unworthy of social connections. And above all, so many of them boasted that they were on so good terms with the CID that they had been considered as "worthy" to be exempted from detention as enemy aliens whilst hundreds of GENUINE political refugees were detained, scores of whom have been shipped away under heavy escort in the last months and some scores, among them even Jews, are still detained—now that the war is over since 2 years. Others stand under orders of expulsion. I think, he who was on so good terms with the Britishers and applies now for "BRITISH" citizenship should go to England. But that he cannot, because when applying for BRITISH CITIZENSHIP IN INDIA, the applicant signs in the form an undertaking to stay in the BRITISH DOMINIONS and not to go to the U.K. What is the reason for this condition?

What concerns the denomination "stateless". I think that everybody who claims to be stateless must submit the Governmental decree which has deprived him of his nationality—otherwise nobody can bestow on himself this denomination.

Mr. Leiser is right, that national Governments regulate the relations towards their citizens and National Governments can confer nationalities and withdraw them.

But HOW THIS IS TO BE DONE is a matter of International Law and reciprocal agreements between the various countries.

Whether, as Mr. Leiser thinks, the transplantation of refugees into the body of India's structure is beneficial ethnically, I venture to doubt. Morally the Indian stands for above the so-called CIVILISED European. That India needs foreign help for some time for the sole purpose to TEACH Indians is agreed to. But for that purpose, nobody needs to acquire BRITISH Citizenship in INDIA.

A EUROPEAN INDOLOGIST.

Legalise Conversions

Sir,—While making a statement in the Assembly on the recent communal disturbances in Bengal and Bihar, Pandit Nehru is reported to have stated that the restoration of women who were forcibly converted and married was causing great concern to the Central Government. In view of the fact that the Christian Missionaries also have abused this practice of conversion of Hindus in the past, though not in present form, which has been a cause of great embitterment of feelings among different communities, may I suggest to the National Government through the columns of your esteemed paper, that they should pass a legislation prohibiting conversion unless a due notice before such conversion is given to a responsible Government Officer, such as a District Magistrate, to be empowered by Government for the purpose. It should be the duty of such Officer to scrutinise such applications and see whether the applicant really desires change of religion because of his/her religious convictions. It is only after his favourable decision that a conversion may be allowed and not before or otherwise. Any priest or person or persons taking part in an unauthorised conversion should be severely punished by imprisonment and such conversion should not be recognised in law. The offence should be made cognisable and a District Register may be maintained of all authorised conversions. More severe penalties, such as imprisonment for life, may be inflicted in case of forcible conversions and marriages of women, besides not recognising such marriages and their previous relations having right for restoration to the old faith of such women.

This legislation may be made applicable to members of other Faiths as well, besides Hindus, if they so desire.

Govt. To Serve Quit Notice On Refugees

Gandhiji To Prolong Stay In East Bengal Till He Sees Reconciliation Between Communities

KAZIRKHIL (East Bengal), November 16. (A.P.I.): At his prayer meeting at Ramganj yesterday, Mahatma Gandhi said he had come to stay in East Bengal till he saw reconciliation between the two communities. He asked both to be brave and fearless and shed all fear, but of God.

Mahatma Gandhi visited two villages in Ramganj thana area, where he met local Muslims and also addressed a general gathering.

Mr. Abdur Goffran, Bengal Minister for Civil Supplies, Mr. Ahmad Hossain, Minister for Agriculture and Messrs. Nasarulla and Abdur Rashid, Parliamentary Secretaries, met Mahatma Gandhi in his camp at Kazirkhil and discussed the present situation with particular reference to rehabilitation of refugees. They were accompanied by Mr. Abdul Hakim, M.L.A., Mr. A. J. Khadar, member All-India League Council, and Maulana Zahidul Haque, a local leader. In the course of their discussion, they referred to the absence of Muslims from Mahatma Gandhi's meetings, and said that it was due to fear in the mind of the Muslims of being arrested by the police.

Mahatma Gandhi is having quieter days at Kazirkhil. Far away from means of quick communication, the number of visitors is practically nil. Since his arrival in Noakhali district, only today he had his morning walk. This was along the village road. The camp is also situated in a typical Bengal village in an isolated locality surrounded on all sides by jungle, and cocoanut and betelnut groves.

Mahatma Visits Scene Of Arson

The burnt and deserted house of the late Rai Sahib Rajendra Lal Roy at Karpara, in Ramganj, was visited by Gandhiji today. Accompanied by Mr. Manoranjan Chaudhury, Secretary, Bengal Provincial Hindu Mahasabha, and others he went by boat to village, five miles south of Ramganj. The homes of thirty families in these premises were completely destroyed during the disturbances.

APPEAL TO MUSLIMS

Gandhiji's prayer meeting of the fifteenth evening was held in front of the school at Ramganj.

He had come with the hope that he would have a frank talk with the Mussalmans and that they would repent of their misdeeds, and request the Hindus not to leave their homes. If the repentance was genuine, the Hindus would recognise their sincerity and regain lost confidence. But he could see that Hindus and Muslims of East Bengal had been embittered against one another. He would not go into the reasons thereof. But the Muslim brethren would let him say that, so far as he knew, in East Bengal they had been the aggressors. Palatial buildings had been destroyed, the schools and temples were not spared. There was forcible conversion and abduction. The Hindus were mortally afraid of them. It was degrading for a human being to inspire fear into another.

At Chaumuhani, Muslims came to his meetings in large numbers, larger than the Hindus. But he did not know why they were avoiding him after first meeting at Dattepara. It hurt him. He wanted the few Mussalmans who were present in the meeting to carry his message to the rest. A Muslim sister who had been going about meeting the leading Muslims in these parts had said that the Muslims told her plainly that they wanted orders from the League leaders before they could promise to befriend the Hindus or attend Gandhiji's meeting.

The exodus of the Hindu was still continuing. If the Muslims assured them they were neighbours, friends and brothers and sons of the same soil breathing the same air and drinking the same water and that the Hindus had nothing to fear from them, the exodus would stop, and even those who left their homes would return. Even animals were friendly to those who befriended them. But man was made in the image of God. To justify his inheritance, man had to return good for evil. Whosoever was the fault, this truth applied to both parties.

The Muslims wanted orders from the League. He could understand it. There was a League Government in the province. But that did not mean that the Government should be inimical to those outside the League. Qaide Azam Jinnah Saheb had said that in Muslim majority provinces, the minorities should be assured of full security and even be treated better than the Muslims. They should search their hearts and ask themselves if they had lived up to that message. So far as he knew, Islam did not permit forcible conversions and atrocities on women. What good could a mere repeating of Kalma do to those whose heart did not accept Islam? So they should ask their leaders whether they were to be friends with the Hindus or enemies. If they wished to be enemies, the Hindus should be asked to leave East Bengal.

Quit Notice To Refugees

CALCUTTA, Nov. 18, (A.P.I.): "The Government have decided that definite steps must be taken to accelerate the return of the refugees from relief camps in Tipperah and Noakhali districts to safe areas," said Sir Walter Gurner, Commissioner for relief and rehabilitations, Bengal Government, at a press conference this morning.

With that object in view, said Sir Walter one week's notice to evacuate the camps would be given to the following classes of refugees:

Firstly, refugees who in the opinion of the District Magistrate came from localities in which there had been no incidents at all;

Secondly, refugees from localities where police and the military protection was sufficient. Thus no scope justifying their remaining in camp and thirdly, refugees from localities where law and order had been restored and public confidence regenerated.

With the exception of those refugees whose homes had been destroyed, supplies of rations in relief camps to the above class of refugees would be discontinued after the prescribed period. Those who return to their areas within that period would be supplied with free ration for consumption in their homes for a fortnight and in necessitous and deserving cases, for a longer period.

A Government spokesman stated that there were some people in Government relief camps who had no justification to be there. Either they were there because they were getting two free meals a day, or they had evacuated to the camp through fright for which there was no justification. He quoted people from Baburhat, four miles away from Chandpur, as an instance of refugees from an area where no incidents had taken place.

The general tenor of the reports from relief camps in Noakhali and Tipperah, Sir Walter observed, was that there were people in the camps who had no ground to leave their homes.

I. N. A. AND EX-SERVICEMEN ON SAME FOOTING

MADRAS, Nov. 18, (A.P.I.): The Government of Madras, it is understood, have decided to treat I.N.A. men on the same footing as ex-Servicemen in the matter of appointments in the various departments of the Government, except the Police department.

NEW DELHI, Nov. 18 (API). Vice-Admiral Sir Geoffrey Miles Flag Officer Commanding, Royal Indian Navy, will leave Delhi by air on tour on Tuesday, Nov. 19, and return to Headquarters on Friday, Nov. 29.

He will visit in the course of the tour Madras Trincomalee (Ceylon) Cochin and Karachi.

At Trincomalee Admiral Miles will meet the Commander-in-Chief East Indies.

He will be present at Karachi on November 28, when the Governor of Sind will open the Napier Fleet Club, which is intended to provide amenities for ratings of the Royal Indian Navy.

23 U. S. MILITARY MEN KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

TOKIO, Nov. 18, (Reuter): United States Army Command Curtis Commando plane carrying 23 military personnel crashed into the sea on Saturday night, 15 miles off Iwojima in mid-Pacific, killing all on board. Ships searching for the plane which was en route from Guam to Iwojima picked up bits of scattered wreckage on Sunday.

Govt. Circular On Newsprint Quotas

NEW DELEI, Nov. 18 API.)

A press note says:—

The Government of India in the Department of Industries and Supplies invite the attention of the proprietors of newspapers using newsprint to a circular letter issued to them in August last in which audited information regarding their circulation, number of issues and pages, etc., was called for. Many newspapers have not so far furnished this information, and it is emphasised that if the information does not reach that Department by the 30th November 1946 at the latest no quotas for 1947 will be granted to them. The circular in question concerns those newspapers whose monthly ration during January to June 1946 was more than 16 cwts. and such newspapers should, therefore, take steps to ensure that the information asked for therein is furnished within the prescribed period.

Punjab Premier In Delhi

NEW DELHI, Nov. 18, (A.P.I.): Sir Khizar Hyat Khas Tiwana, Premier of the Punjab, arrived in Delhi today. During his two days stay here he will discuss with the Government of India the co-ordination policy between civil and military and also the question connected with the establishment of a national Academy in India.

LATE MR. GOPAL NANA PATIL

A Bordi correspondent writes: "Mr. Gopal Nana Patil, of Bordi a well known agri-horticulturist in Thana District, and a leader of the Somvanshi Kshatriya Community passed away. He was one of the Founders of the Hakimji High School at Bordi.

The welfare of the Adwasis and Harijans was very dear to him; and during the last 25 years he did much locally to help in ameliorating their condition in co-operation with several associations.

MARTIAL LAW IN RESHT

No Persian Army In Zendjan Yet

TEHERAN, Nov. 17 (Reuter): (Delayed): Martial law and curfew have been imposed on the airfield town of Resht, 20 miles from the Caspian Sea Port of Pahlevi (where martial law was stated to have been imposed on Saturday), according to a report in the newspaper "Krihan."

Persian Army Headquarters officially denied today that Persian troops have yet entered the town of Zendjan 180 miles North-West of Teheran held by Azerbaijan democratic forces since April.

An undertaking was given recently by Dr. Salamullah Djavid Azer, the Azerbaijan Governor-General of Zendjan, that the town would be evacuated by his troops and handed over to Central Government forces.

BOO-ISHIGI APPOINTED GOVERNOR OF ZENDJAN

Col. Boo-Ishigi was today appointed Governor of Zendjan by the Central Government and according to the Chief of Staff, Gen. Razmara, two groups of gendarmes have already been sent to take over the policing of the town.

Travellers arriving here tonight from Zendjan reported, however, that "not a single Persian gendarme or soldier" was to be seen there.

Zendjan is close to but outside the borders of the home rule province of Azerbaijan. After the June agreement between Azerbaijan and the Central Government that the Province should be an integral part of Persia and that the Azerbaijan Army should come under the command of the Persian Army, the Azerbaijan Democrats agreed to hand Zendjan back to the Central Government.

The Democrats remained in Zendjan, however, and the question of evacuation and again to be raised in the recent talks in Teheran between Governor Djavid and representatives of the Central Government.

Walking 3,000 Miles In 48 Days

Londoner Sets Up New World Endurance Record

LONDON, November 18. (Reuter): Bert Couzens, 47-year-old Londoner, who over the week-end completed 3,000 miles walk in 48 days to set up a new world endurance record, now plans to walk right across the United States. During his marathone walk, which took place in Romford Stadium here, he rested for only 26 hours, worse out six pairs of shoes and consumed 100 gallons of tea. The previous endurance record was established 137 years ago by Cap. J. Barclays, another Briton.

Madras Workers Dispute Referred To Adjudication

CALCUTTA, Nov. 18 (API.) The three-month old strike of 16,000 iron and steel workers at Messrs. Burn and Company's Works at Burnpur will be referred by the Bengal Government to adjudication under the Defence of India Rules.

Continuance of the strike after reference has been made to adjudication becomes illegal.

A Bengal Government press note announcing this says:

"From the beginning of the strike on August 13, up to the end of October the loss in production amounts to 126,000 tons of iron and 60,000—70,000 tons of steel.

India's Representative At Industrial Committee

CALCUTTA, Nov 18, (API). Mr. Deven Sen, M.L.A. has been selected by the Government of India as workers' representative to represent India at the International Industrial Committee, which will meet on November 25 in Brussels, it is learnt here.

Mr. Sen will leave from Brussels by Air tomorrow.

M. P. Patil To Tour Karnatak

BOMBAY, Monday.

Mr. M. P. Patil, Minister for Forests and Agriculture, will be on a eight-day tour of Karnatak. He will leave Bombay on November 21 and in the course of his tour will visit all the important places in Kanara, Dharwar and Belgaum districts. He will leave Belgaum for Bombay on November 29.

During his tour, Mr. Patil will have a number of public engagements and discussions with important officials and non-officials.

Mysore Prepares For Direct Action

BANGALORE, Nov. 17 (API). A Sub-Committee to draw up plans for direct action in accordance with the resolution adopted at the recent session of the Mysore State Congress was formed by its Working Committee. The President of the State Congress was also authorised to undertake a tour of Mysore State to organise the masses for direct action if such action should become inevitable.

The Working Committee adopted a resolution, urging constituent Assembly members from the provinces to decline to recognise the Princes Negotiating Committee which, the Committee alleges, is undemocratic, composed of rulers and their nominees.

In this connection the Committee emphasised that it was essential to reconstitute the Negotiating Committee in consultation with the All-India States Peoples Conference so as to consist of a majority of the States People's representatives.

The Working Committee also urged that until seats allotted to the States were filled up the Constituent Assembly should postpone business directly or indirectly involving the rights and interests of States people.

The Committee regretted resort to violence by certain sections of labour in the Kolar Gold Fields, but expressed the view that the situation did not warrant police firing.

English Publishers Won't Print Elliott Roosevelt's Book

NEW YORK, (U. P. A.): Elliott Roosevelt's "As He Saw It" may be great reading for Americans, but Britain's largest publishing house isn't having any, thank you.

"I've read the book and just turned it down," said William A. Collins, Chairman of the Board of William Collins and Sons Co., Ltd., of London.

"We have no objection to printing anti-British books", added Collins, "but I got the impression that he (Elliott Roosevelt) was reporting conversations between his father and others not as they actually happened, but as he afterwards thought they had taken place."

An official at Duell, Sloane, and Pearce, Publishers of the book, said:

"We've placed the book before all of Britain's best publishers, and they've all given it the cold shoulder. Some did so without even reading it."

The calm-voiced Britisher, beaming above his bow-tie, also took a few clips at other popular American titles.

"We even turned down 'Forever Amber,' you know," he said. "I just didn't think that the central character was strong enough. And this jumping in and out of bed became repetitions."

Amber, however, was published by a smaller British house.

"It sold around 25,000 copies, but it's forgotten in England now," said Collins.

Collins also rejected Thomas B. Costain's best-seller "The Black Rose", and turned thumbs down on Garland Roark's "Wake Of The Red Witch".

But if thousands of Americans read these books, wouldn't the British?

"Perhaps," Collins admitted, "but we buy only what we like. We like to choose authors that can be built up through the years".

He said that his firm would publish Kenneth Roberts' new novel "Lydia Bailey," and also planned to publish 50,000 copies of Taylor Caldwell's "This side of Innocence".

"There'll be no gamble for us in either," he said. "They'll sell out on publication."

Grant For Constituent Assembly Passed

NEW DELHI, Nov. 18 (API).—A grant of Rs. 17,83,000 for the expenses of the Constituent Assembly was made by the Central Assembly today with unexpected speed and smoothness. Four cut motions tabled by Mr. Tamizuddin Khan (Muslim League) had roused the expectation of a keen debate and strong Muslim League opposition. The cut motions sought, 'inter alia' to discuss "the legal basis and validity of the Constituent Assembly" and the "inadvisability of calling the session of the Constituent Assembly without ensuring the basis of co-operation between the major political parties in the country in giving effect to the proposals of the British Cabinet Mission."

When the Finance Member moved the demand for grant, Mr. Tamizuddin was not in the House. Mr. Anantha sayanam Ayyangar, who on earlier demands had plied departmental representatives with a series of points of information, rose to ask more questions on the Constituent Assembly, but he failed to catch the eye of the President, who put the motion before the House and declared it passed.

UNRRA, A RACKET

Mr. Manu Subedar opposed any further contributions to UNRRA, but said he would agree to pay, if the Government had made a promise. He would, however, ask the Government to find out if UNRRA had not already been liquidated, and if there was anyone authorised to receive the money. In any case, Government should not give commodities to UNRRA which were essential to this country.

Mr. Subedar said that UNRRA was a charitable institution set up by the USA for Europe and China. The U. K. had already flatly refused to have anything to do with it, and he understood that the institution had been liquidated. The House would remember that the U.S.A. would not divert any more wheat to UNRRA.

Though India had suffered much on account of the war, Mr. Subedar said, UNRRA did not help this country in any way. It was a racket set up by the U.S.A to gain popularity in Europe, and when it found that popularity could not be gained by this means, it gave up UNRRA.

FEEDING JEWS TO KILL ARABS

Mr. A. R. Siddiqui said, "being a Muslim, as the honourable member for Commerce also is, we are internationalist par excellence, but I should like to have a sense of proportion brought into this outlook. I shall look at this problem from an angle different from that of Mr. Manu Subedar."

Mr. Siddiqui said that he had seen the working of the organisation in Egypt and Greece and found that 99 point 9 per cent of its employees were his semetic cousins the Jews, and that the organisation was being used to feed and clothe and ship Jews to Palestine in order to kill the Arabs there.

The House must have heard the news from Italy that UNRRA could not help people in concentration camps, refugees or evacuees. Nevertheless if a promise had been made by the predecessors of the present Government, that promise must be kept and the money might be given, but "do not in any way agree to the horror perpetrated on Palestine and the Middle East countries by people fed and brought up by UNRRA."

Mr. Chundrigar, replying, said that his intention in moving the motion was to ascertain the general sense of the House. He realised the full significance of the previous speeches and he recognised there was great distress in the country and the food situation was also bad. He thought that the better course would therefore be to ask leave of the House to withdraw the motion so that in the light of criticisms made Government could re-examine the problem and reach a decision after full consideration (cheers).

INDIAN NAVY DISCIPLINE ACT

The House agreed to Miss Maniben Kara's motion for reference to a Select Committee of the Defence Secretary's Bill further to amend the Indian Navy Discipline Act 1934.

The Defence Secretary's original motion was for consideration of the Bill, while Miss Kara moved an amendment seeking to circulate the Bill for eliciting public opinion.

Intervening in the debate on the motion, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Leader of the House, said that one important point which had been raised during the debate was whether merchant seamen who would be affected by the Bill would have to leave their Unions. The Defence Secretary had assured him that they would not have to leave their Unions as seamen. "Naturally, as temporary members of the Navy, they would not function in the Navy in regard to naval matters in that way, but they would continue as members of their Union." He was agreeable to reference of the Bill to a Select Committee.

Miss Maniben Kara thereupon withdrew her motion for circulation and the House agreed to her motion for reference to a Select Committee.

ADJOURNED 'SINE DIE'

The House agreed to the Finance Member's demand for supplementary grants amounting to about Rs. 32 crores and the Railway Member's demands for supplementary grants amounting to about Rs. 25 crores.

The remaining official Bills on the agenda were not proceeded with and the Assembly adjourned 'sine die.' It is expected that the budget session will begin on January 20, 1947.

First Cross-Channel Flight By British Jet Airliner

PARIS, November 18. (Reuter): British nene Lancastrian, first jet-propelled passenger airliner in the world, made the first cross channel flight of any jet airliner when it flew from London to Paris today.

The plane, which was to have flown over yesterday but was held up by bad weather, is to remain in France for two days and make demonstration flights over the capital.

Bengal Faces Imminent Economic Collapse

"ONLY HOPE OF SURVIVAL IS RETURN TO SANITY"

Humayun Kabir's Appeal To Hindus And Muslims

CALCUTTA, November 17. (A.P.I.): The whole of Bengal is faced today with imminent economic collapse and even if moral considerations are left alone, self-interest itself demands that every Hindu and Muslim of Bengal must rebuild together the devastated homes and suppress once for all the forces of barbarism and savagery, says Prof. Humayun Kabir, M.L.C., and Member of the Congress Constitutional Experts Committee, in a statement to the press on the recent communal disturbances in the country.

TWO ALTERNATIVES

"The terrible incidents in Calcutta, Noakhali and Bihar", Mr. Kabir states, "should make every sensible man search his heart and seek a way out of the 'impasse' to which the country has been led. Hindus and Muslims have lived and will have to live together in this land, and there is no power on earth which can force them into separate blocks. Every decent man must condemn in unqualified terms the shameful atrocities perpetrated on small minorities.

There are only two alternatives before Hindus and Muslims of India. They can, if they will, live in peace and amity and share in common prosperity. They may, on the other hand, if they choose, slowly and inevitably tear one another to pieces and destroy the fabric of civilisation built up through centuries of common endeavour. One thing must, however, be clearly understood by every Hindu and Muslim of this land. The immoral doctrine of hostage and reprisal has been preached so ceaselessly for the last few years that every time a Muslim kills a Hindu, he becomes directly responsible for the death of a Muslim in some other area. Similarly, every Hindu who kills a Muslim signs at once the death warrant of a fellow-Hindu somewhere else. Narrow communal fanatics have only succeeded in asserting our common fellowship through untold sufferings, anguish and blood.

HOPES FRUSTRATED

There is a special lesson in all this for Bengal, and for Bengal Muslims in particular. This unfortunate province felt the ravages of war more severely than any other part of India. In addition she was visited by an unprecedented sequence of flood, man-made famine and pestilence. While the rest of India advanced in education, industry and commerce during the years of war, Bengal could not even maintain her pre-war standard in these fields. The end of war held out some hopes of economic, industrial, educational and social rehabilitation. Muslim middle classes were recovering from Great Britain's century old policy of suppressing them and slowly feeling their way to commercial and industrial fields.

The end of war held out hopes of subvention from the Centre to finance the many urgently needed schemes of reform and rehabilitation, but the Calcutta carnage and the Noakhali tragedy threatens to shatter all these hopes. The resources of the province and any help from outside are being exhausted in merely trying to restore what hooligans and criminals have destroyed. All schemes of reconstruction are in suspense and the province finds its meagre resources swallowed up by foolish and unnecessary holocausts.

BENGAL FACES COLLAPSE

The whole of Bengal is faced today with imminent economic collapse. The danger is greater for the Muslims who are both financially and commercially a weaker party. All talk of economic boycott of one community by another is foolish and mischievous in such context and would cause injuries to both. Muslims will be the greater sufferers; but life in Bengal is so inextricably mixed up that Hindus can harm Muslims or vice-versa only by injuring their own interests.

Industrial and commercial life of the province is almost at a standstill. Ruin faces vast masses of the people and famine and pestilence threaten to finish those whom the hooligans have spared. Our only hope of survival is a return of sanity. Even if moral considerations are left alone, self-interest itself demands that every Hindu and Muslim of Bengal must rebuild together the devastated homes and suppress once for all the forces of barbarism and savagery.

NO PROSPECT OF OUTSIDE RICE FOR BENGAL

CALCUTTA, Nov. 18 (A.P.I.): There was no prospect of the province obtaining any rice from outside either this month or the next, said a Bengal Government spokesman today. He added: "During the first fortnight of this month, the province received 10,000 tons of wheat, 5,000 tons of barley and 4,543 tons of maize. Further quantities of 4,000 tons of wheat and 9,857 tons of barley were expected shortly from overseas.

Supplies of rice were being despatched to the districts as quickly as possible and the price-trend was distinctly downward.

During the week ending November 15th the Bengal Government procured 12,416 tons of rice and 6,214 tons of paddy—a total of 16,559 tons in terms of rice. This is considered by the Food Department as extremely satisfactory at this time of the year, being more than 2,300 tons a day.

The most substantial purchases during the period under review were made in Burdwan, Midnapur, Bankura, Dinapur, Birbhum and 24-Parganas.

The total quantity procured during the current year upto November 15 has been 4,44,007 tons of rice and 177,052 tons of paddy or a total of 5,62,575 tons of in terms of rice.

The early 'aman' (winter) crop has begun to appear in the markets in West Bengal and Government have purchased about 10,000 tons of it.

(C) A Regulation containing provisions in case no agreement can be reached by the organs of the Union.

(D) A Regulation of the manner and conditions of assistance to be given by the Services of the Kingdom of the Netherlands to the United States of Indonesia as long as the Services of the latter are not or are insufficiently organised.

(E) Safeguarding in both parts of the Union of the fundamental human rights and liberties referred to in the Charter of the United Nations Organisation.

U. N. O. MEMBERSHIP

ARTICLE ELEVEN: (A) The Statute of the Union shall be drafted by a Conference of Representatives of the Kingdom of the Netherlands and of the future United States of Indonesia.

(B) The Statute shall come into effect after approval by the respective Parliaments.

ARTICLE TWELVE: The Netherlands Government and the Government of the Republic shall endeavour to establish the United States of Indonesia and the Netherlands-Indonesian Union before January 1, 1949.

ARTICLE THIRTEEN: The Netherlands Government shall forthwith take necessary steps in order to obtain admission of the United States of Indonesia as a member of the United Nations Organisation immediately after the formation of the Netherlands Indonesian Union.

RESTORATION OF RIGHTS

ARTICLE FOURTEEN: The Government of the Republic recognises the claim of all non-Indonesians to restoration of their rights and restitution of their goods as far as they were exercised or to be found in the territory over which it exercises 'de facto' authority. A Joint Commission will be set up to effect this restoration and restitution.

ARTICLE FIFTEEN: In order to reform the Government of the Indies, in such a way that its composition and procedure shall confirm as closely as possible to recognition of the Republic and to the projected constitutional structure the Netherlands Government—pending realisation of the United States of Indonesia and of the Netherlands-Indonesian Union—shall forthwith initiate necessary legal measures to adjust the constitutional and international position of the Kingdom of the Netherlands to the new situation.

Settlement Of Differences

ARTICLE SIXTEEN: Directly after the conclusion of this Agreement both parties shall proceed to reduce their armed forces. They will consult together concerning the extent and rate of this reduction and their co-operation in military matters.

ARTICLE SEVENTEEN: (A) For co-operation between the Netherlands Government and the Government of the Republic contemplated in this agreement an organisation shall be called into existence consisting of delegations to be appointed by each of the two Governments with a joint secretariat.

(B) The Netherlands Government and the Government of the Republic shall settle by arbitration any dispute which might arise from this agreement, and which cannot be solved by joint consultation in conference between those delegations or, if such an agreement cannot be reached, by the President of the International Court of Justice.

FINAL CLAUSE: This Agreement shall be drawn up in the Netherlands and Indonesian languages. Both texts shall have equal authority."

DUTCH CABINET ON BATAVIA AGREEMENT

A cable from the Hague said that the Dutch Cabinet met today to consider the Indonesian question shortly after the publication of the text of the Agreement. The Government would take no decision, it was believed, until the return from Indonesia of the Dutch negotiators.

AHMEDABAD MAGISTRATE'S WARNING

AHMEDABAD, Nov. 18 A warning that stern measures will be taken against the offending communities in localities where stabbing incidents continue to occur has been given by Mr. S. G. Barve, District Magistrate, Ahmedabad.

He has informed leaders of the various localities that they would be held responsible for the maintenance of peace by their communities, and collective fines would be imposed on the offending sections of the communities. Even extreme measures, such as stoppage of food rations might be considered if the situation did not improve, he said.

No incidents have occurred in Ahmedabad during the last two days.

NINE INJURED BY EXPLOSIONS

Seven persons were injured tonight when an explosion took place in Kalupur area.

Two persons were injured when an explosive substance was thrown near a cinema earlier in the day.

AUSTRALIAN TROOPS ON GUARD IN KOLABA DIST.

MANGAON, Nov. 15 (A.P.I.): A strong contingent of Armed Division of the District Police has been despatched from here shortly after midday today to Uran under a senior police officer to enforce curfew from 2 p. m. to 7 a. m. for a day only, following receipt of information by the District Magistrate, who is camping here, that serious disturbances are likely because the local residents of Uran are observing "Bihar Day" writes an Associated Press of India special correspondent touring the affected areas in Kolaba District.

The situation in the District continues to be tense but no incident is reported from villages in southern areas. Groups of several villages along the range of hills on either side of the south of Mangaon which have been most disturbed till four days ago are now under strict vigilance of armed police and two contingents of Australian troops. Arrests of suspects connected with seting fire to houses and fatal assaults are being made in their villages.

SHANKARRAO DEO'S APPEAL

In view of the seriousness of the situation, Mr. Shankarrao Deo, Member of the Congress Working Committee visited the southern areas of Kolaba District yesterday, Nov. 14. He arrived early in the day and accompanied by Mr. V. M. Vedak, M.L.C., Bombay, from this District visited Nizampur, five miles north of Mangaon, Goregaon, a few miles south from here and Mahad, 18 miles south where troubles had taken place last week.

Mr. Shankar Rao Deo conferred with prominent leaders of these areas and discussed the situation.

In the course of his talks, Mr. Deo impressed upon his co-workers the supreme need to exercise restraint and avoid chances of creating bitterness among people. He also advised them to turn their attention to relief work among those who have suffered losses of life and property.

Mr. Deo left Mahad for Bombay en route to Meerut to attend the Congress session there.

POLICE OPEN FIRE AT SANGAMNER

AHMEDNAGAR, Nov. 18, (API): Police opened fire once on Saturday last to disperse a riotous mob at Sangamner but no one was injured, according to reports received here from Sangamner. The situation is still considered tense.

PATNA BAN ON BOGUS RELIEF WORKERS

PATNA, November 18. (A.P.I.): Unless a person claiming to be relief worker produces a certificate of his bonafides from the Muslim League or the Congress, the Jamait ul Momin, the Khaksar organisation, the Indian National Army and the Hindu Mahasabha he will not be allowed to enter or remain within the District of Patna, according to an order issued here under Sec. 144 Cr. P. C.

The order has been promulgated to restrict the influence of a large number of public claiming to be relief workers in the Patna District whose presence, the order says, is likely to be an obstruction to persons lawfully employed in relief work and a danger to public health.

The order will remain in force for a period of one month.

ALIGARH BOYS IN PATNA

A number of medical students of the Aligarh University headed by Dr. Aziz Khan arrived here this morning for relief work in the affected areas.

A Central Committee has been formed here by the Bihar Majatul Momin to co-ordinate the work done by the various Momin relief parties in rural areas.

Mr. Abdus Shamsah Abdul Gaffoor, a prominent Momin leader of Bengal has arrived here with a party of relief workers.

ONE INJURED BY CRACKER IN HOWRAH

CALCUTTA, November 18. (A.P.I.): The Director of Publicity to the Government of Bengal has issued the following press note:

Calcutta was quiet and normal throughout today. Report of slight damage to a passenger bus as a result of brickbats was received from north Calcutta.

In Howrah one person was injured when a cracker was thrown at a car. Fourteen arrests were made in this connection.

BIHAR REFUGEES IN BENGAL GOVT. RELIEF CAMPS

There are about 250 refugees from Bihar in Government relief camps in Calcutta. This information was given at a press conference this morning by a Government spokesman. He said he had also visited Asansol where about 330 evacuees had arrived at camps. A number of them, however, had left for the homes of their relatives and friends, 280 only being left in the camps.

The spokesman added that the Bengal Government would take up in correspondence with the Bihar Government the question of these refugees returning to Bihar.

Big Loot Unearthed By Calcutta Police

CALCUTTA, Nov. 18 (API.) The Calcutta Police have recovered a large quantity of property alleged to have been looted during the August Disturbances in Calcutta.

The articles which were seized following search of a house in Central Calcutta, included 17 pieces of diamonds, jewellery, a large number of Benarasi and silk saris and clothing, ceiling fans, gramophones and some furniture.

Two women, who were arrested in this connection, were later released on personal recognizance bonds.

Cairo Students Stone Police

British Army Traffic Diverted To Avoid Incidents

CAIRO, Nov. 18 (Reuter): British Army traffic was diverted to avoid incidents when Medical students of Cairo's Kasr-el-Eini Hospital today stoned the police in the main street outside the hospital.

University classes were only partially resumed this morning in spite of appeals by the authorities to students to concentrate on their studies.

Students of some faculties were holding meetings in the quadrangles at which speeches were made.

This followed Saturday's re-opening—after five weeks' postponement—of schools and universities in Cairo and Alexandria. The police took strict precautions on the opening day to prevent political demonstrations by students and the two cities were out of bounds to British troops.

D. F. Karaka: Off My Chest

In the WORLD REVIEW of October, 1946 which is just available in this country, there is an article on "Words, Music and Meaning" by Richard Massie, which caught my eye. Mr. Massie says that in the novel, "Fanny By Gaslight" by Richard Sadleir, the author describes a party of men, striding down Leicester Square, shouting the chorus of a gibberish song which had swept the town in 1869. The song ran as follows: (and there are no printers' errors in what follows this):—

"Jamstejee ma Jabajehoy
Jabbery dobi porie,
Ikey Pikey Sikey Crikey
Chillungowallabadoris!"

Now if I had written this sort of thing in my column, they would have said:

1. It is puerile piffle.
2. That it is personal and in bad taste.
3. That it is a direct attack on the Turf Club. Why? Because Sir Jamshedjee Jeejeebhoy Bart. is a Steward of the Turf Club.
4. That it was a direct attack on that venerable institution, the Parsee Panchayat, of which the Parsee baronet is a worthy member.

However, the bit in question appeared in a novel published in England by Messrs. Constable & Co., a leading firm of publishers, and it was reproduced in so 'high-falutin' a magazine as WORLD REVIEW, which is edited by Edward Hulton and with which is incorporated the old 'Review of Reviews. So I guess we read this sort of 'gibberish' as quite an interesting article.

Jamshedjee Jeejeebhoy's claim to world fame is, however, eclipsed by the writer of this column. The young son, aged eight, of a friend of mine, came up to me the other day and said, "Uncle, are you a King Fisher?"

A little baffled, I said, "No, why?"

"But it says so in my book," the boy persisted.

"Does it?" I asked in confusion.

He fetched me a little book printed by Blackie's the educational bookseller, and right there I found, "Karaks, the King Fisher."

The young boy did not think it funny. Nor did I.

Fuel Research Institution

Bhabha Lays Foundation At Digwadih

DHANBAD, November 17. (A.P.I.): The foundation stone of the Fuel Research Institution, second in the chain of India's five national laboratories, was laid today by Mr. C. H. Bhaba, Member for Works, Mines and Power in the Interim Government, at Digwadih, a few miles from Dhanbad, in the heart of Bihar's coal fields area.

The annual recurring expenditure of the Institute for the first five years will be about rupees two and a half lakhs.

The buildings and the laboratory equipment will cost 14 lakhs.

Mr. Bhabha, arrived here by air from Delhi. He was received at Bhoura landing ground by Sir Sahib Swarup Bhatnagar, Director, Scientific and Industrial Research Institute, Dr. Charles Forrester, Principal, Dhanbad School of Mines and Dr. J. W. Whitaker, Director of Fuel Research Institute, Dhanbad.

GOODWILL MESSAGES

Messages of goodwill were received on the occasion of the foundation stone laying ceremony from Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Dr. Rajendra Prasad, Mr. Rajagopalachari, Sir Ardeshir Dalal, Sir C. P. Ramaswami Iyer, Mr. J. R. D. Tata, Sir J. J. Ghandy, Dr. Ziauddin Ahmed, Sir A. Lakshmanswami Mudaliar and many other eminent scientists, educationists and public men.

INSTITUTE'S FUNCTIONS

The functions of the Fuel Research Institute are to make a survey of Indian coals and to carry out research on processing with a view to manufacturing metallurgical coke, and investigations on low-temperature carbonisation and tar distillation for producing dyes, drugs, plastics, explosives and synthetic liquid fuels.

The work of the Institute is divided into a short-term and long-term programme in accordance with the urgent and future need of the country in respect of fuels.

GREEK PREMIER'S CHARGE AGAINST NORTHERN NEIGHBOURS

Border Incidents Memorandum To British And U. S. Ambassadors

ATHENS, Nov. 18, (Reuter): M. Constantin Tsaldaris, the Greek Prime Minister, today handed to the British and United States ambassadors in Athens a memorandum alleging that support has been given to Greek Guerillas by Greece's Northern Neighbours.

The Memorandum gives a list of the border incidents since October 1.

They include 27 incidents on the Greek-Albanian border said to be due to "Albanian soldiers attacking Greek outposts"; 24 similar incidents on the Greek-Yugoslav Frontier and ten on the Greek-Bulgarian Frontier.

"The incidents occurred without provocation," the memorandum declared.

It enumerated evidence supporting to show in many cases that the whole object of the attacks was to cover infiltration into Greece of "Anarchist Communist Bands."

Greek troops were standing by in Macedonia today after renewed threats to outposts on Mount Skra where fighting took place last week according to reports from Salonika today.

Armed bands were alleged to be moving across the Yugoslav border. Unconfirmed reports added that one Greek battalion had already engaged with them last night.

Fixation Of Par Value Of Rupee

Indian Merchants Chamber Warns Govt. Not To Commit Country Till Settlement Of Issue Of Sterling Balances

The Secretary, Indian Merchants' Chamber, Bombay, in the course of a letter to the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Finance, New Delhi, on the Subject of Fixation of the par value of the Rupee for purposes of the International Monetary Fund, observes:—

"My Committee note that the Government of India have been requested by the authorities of the International Monetary Fund to communicate to them the par value of the Rupee based on the rates of exchange prevailing in October 1945.

My Committee, however, find themselves at a serious disadvantage in making positive and specific suggestions regarding the rate of the par value of the Rupee that would be deemed suitable from the point of view of the requirements of this country. Government have not furnished to them and to the public in this country the necessary data and material essential for a scientific examination of the problem. Moreover, the present moment is singularly inopportune for arriving at final or definite conclusions on this all-important matter. The internal economy of the country has been subjected to a serious dislocation due to a variety of factors.

It is, therefore, felt that it would be extremely unwise for the country to attempt to base any conclusions regarding the suitability of a permanent par value for the Rupee in the existing fluid circumstances and that a final determination of what shall be the appropriate par value should be held over till the country has a more clear vision of the probable trends of our internal economic conditions.

"My Committee are of the considered opinion that a final decision on the question of the par value should be postponed till after the question of the Sterling Balances has been satisfactorily settled. The country would be in a better position after that settlement to evaluate the then existing situation in the light of the terms of the settlement and the reactions thereof. The Government of India should, therefore, approach the International Monetary Fund for an extension of time for communicating the par value of the rupee till after the negotiations between India and the U.K. for the settlement of the Sterling Balance has been made.

The opportunity presented by the developments connected with the International Monetary Fund should enable the Government of India to terminate the link between the Rupee and the Sterling which has no special significance in the existing circumstances and instead to link the Rupee to gold. The discontinuance of the link with Sterling and the substitution of the same by a link to gold will necessitate changes in the Reserve Bank of India Act and my Committee urge that early steps should be taken to do the needful in that direction.

In conclusion, my Committee reiterate that the Government of India should not commit themselves by communicating the par value of the Rupee at this stage but should, instead, press for time for a 'final' determination of the issue till after the question of the settlement of the Sterling Balances due to this country is satisfactorily solved.

CEYLON-INDIA WEIGHT LIFTING CONTEST

COLOMBO, Nov. 17 (API): The third international weight lifting contest between India and Ceylon will take place on December 6. The first meet, held in Colombo on December 1941, was won by Ceylon and the second, held in Calcutta on March 1944 was won by India. The Indian team is expected to arrive here on December 3.

UNSEASONAL RAINS IN BOMBAY

BOMBAY, Monday.

Bombay and the Konkan seem to have been chosen for special favour this year by the rain-God Indra, for his gracious bounties are still being plentifully showered on this dry and dusty island!

The monsoon in this part of the country terminates in the first moiety of October, but this year though we are well near Christmas, it is raining in Bombay as if 'Mraga' had just begun.

In fact people who had carefully folded their rainproofs and locked them up in the almirah have been rudely required to dust off their miasma-ridden rain-coats and bring them into service again.

The rains which commenced at dusk yesterday continued in the form of intermittent drizzles throughout the night and towards the morning it started raining cats and dogs.

Nocturnal slumberers had to fetch their blankets as the chilly morning blast brought about a shivering cold atmosphere in city.

Bombay recorded nearly a 1/4 inch of rainfall overnight and as the morning advanced many places in the North were inundated. In some flooded streets pedestrains had to wade through knee-deep puddles.

Taxis and gharries reaped a rich harvest as those who had to get to their business in time, did not mind paying through the nose.

The weather clerk makes the following forecast for the afternoon and to-morrow.

Bombay City is in for bad weather to-day according to weather experts in Poona. A small cyclonic storm in the East Central Arabian Sea is centred about 50 miles west of Ratnagiri on the Konkan coast, and weather experts expect winds of 40 to 50 miles in Bombay this afternoon.

The whole of the Bombay Deccan is experiencing cyclonic weather since yesterday evening owing to this storm and this weather will continue for one day more according to weather forecasts. Deogda, near Ratnagiri, had three inches of rain yesterday.

Poona is also experiencing monsoonish weather and 0.60 inches of rain was recorded till 8 a.m. this morning in the course of 12 hours.

Russians Rush Large Food Supplies To British Zone

LONDON, Nov. 8 (Reuter).—Cabling from Berlin, the special correspondent of the "Daily Mail" says that the Russians with a sudden change of policy have begun sending large shipments of food for the British Zone of Germany. "Tonight there is jubilation among our officers at the turn of events here while the Anglo-American wrangling over supplies continues in Washington", says the correspondent, adding that grain and potatoes are coming in through the German Baltic ports in exchange for steel to be sent to the Russian zone by rail.

"The agreement concluded some time ago which the Russians are implementing provides for 100,000 tons of food for Tur Zone in exchange for steel and industrial products" continues the correspondent.

20,000 tons of bread grain have been offered by the end of November. Much bigger shipments will be available in the subsequent months."

Renewed Speculative Activity In Share Bazar

INTERIM RISE IN COTTON ATTRACTS REALISING SALES

Increased Short Covering In Gold And Silver

Bombay, Nov. 18

The Share Bazar displayed steady tone on renewed speculative support. Steel shares received more attention while Cotton Mill shares also moved up with increased activity. The improved domestic political situation is now drawing attention and it appears that further support will appear as the present price level is believed to be reasonable.

Tata Steel Defd shares opened today at Rs. 2945 and advanced at Rs. 2975 on increased buying. Ordinary shares opened at Rs. 535 and hardened at Rs. 537. Bombay Dyeing shares remained neglected at Rs. 2980. Kohinoors opened at Rs. 950 and improved at Rs. 960 while Swadeshi shares opened at Rs. 769 and moved up at Rs. 774.

Towards the close, the market was steady with further buying. Tata Steel Defds improved at Rs. 2982 and Ordinary shares firmed up at Rs. 539/8. Indian Irons were quoted at Rs. 53. Bombay Dyeings were dull at Rs. 2962. Gokaks were quoted at Rs. 400 and Kohinoors steadied at Rs. 958. Simplex shares were done at Rs. 469. Andhra shares were quoted at Rs. 1875. Associated Cements stood at Rs. 246/8 and Burmas were quoted at Rs. 736/4. Closing tone of the market was very steady.

The market was favourably influenced by returning peace in the city and after the close of the market Tata Steel Defd. Shares were done at Rs. 3000.

GOLD & SILVER

Bombay, Nov. 18

The Bullion market was very steady to-day on active professional short covering. Silver was also steady with moderate buying.

It is reported that the Central Government has drawn the attention of the Bombay Government regarding the present state of affairs in the market and now it seems certain that the Government will intervene with a view to put the trade on businesslike basis. This intervention was the direct result of failure of the local Bullion Exchange to put its house in order.

Forward silver opened to-day at Rs. 146 and declined at Rs. 145/12 under scattered selling. At this level there was increased short covering and silver improved at Rs. 146/8. Ready silver was quoted at Rs. 154. Forward gold opened to-day at Rs. 89/10 and advanced at Rs. 90/4 on professional short covering. Ready gold was quoted at Rs. 100.

There was further buying and Forward Silver improved at Rs. 146/14 and Ready Silver was quoted at Rs. 154/8. Forward Gold hardened at Rs. 91 and Ready Gold was quoted at Rs. 100/12 while Sovereigns were quoted at Rs. 67/4.

The market ruled steady and finally closed as under:—

Ready Silver	154	4	0
Forward Silver	146	9	0
Ready Gold	101	8	0
Forward Gold	91	1	0
Sovereigns	67	4	0

BOMBAY COTTON

BOMBAY, Nov. 18.

The market was steady today with a moderate business passing.

Untimely rain at this time of the year is believed to do some damage to the cotton crop and deteriorate the quality.

January delivery opened at Rs. 460/8 and improved at Rs. 461/4 on moderate buying. At this level there appeared moderate selling and January declined at Rs. 460. There was fresh buying support and January improved at Rs. 461.

The market ruled very steady on further buying and January was quoted at Rs. 461/10.

The market advanced to Rs. 462 but reacted on increased selling and January was quoted at Rs. 460/12.

Trading in September delivery started today at Rs. 490.

ALL-INDIA STATE CONTROL ON SUGAR

Sir Shankar Lal's Plea For Well-Thought Out Policy

LUCKNOW, November 17. (A.P.I.): A careful survey on an All-India basis of the sugar industry in this country, so that whatever state control was necessary should be devised and operated on an All-India scale was suggested in his presidential address by Sir Sanker Lal who presided at the 14th annual session of the All-India Sugar Mills Association.

Sir Sanker Lal said instead of being threatened with over-production after every three years in the cycle fluctuation, the sugar industry now had to shoulder the responsibility of filling the big gap between the existing production and India's increased consumption. Pressure of war needs and war economy had forced the industry under a scheme of All-India control. The scheme under which the industry was at present functioning was not the outcome of a deliberate well-thought out policy, but an improvised structure put up without any clear ideas.

U. S. DE-CONTROL POLICY AND ITS EFFECT ON BRITAIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (UPA): Denouncing British critics of the U. S. price de-control and abandonment by the U. S. Government of its procurement of food for export the "New York Times" today said that the suggestion that the "British people must tighten their belts due to our policy is misleading.

The present short rations of the British public stem from an entirely different source, namely the so-called austerity programme of the British Government under which it was elected to hold down consumption at home as part of the drive for exports, the "New York Times" said.

"This drive is the lever with which Britain expects to restore her exchange position and raise her general standard of living," the "New York Times" continued. "Yet, not a word is said by these angry and unthinking critics of our recent change in the price policy and the fact that high prices here or elsewhere are the very thing calculated to make her own export policy effective."

The paper added that "although it is generally agreed that sterling is overvalued at present, giving Britain an advantage here as an importer at a time when we are in the sellers' market, this fact has been accepted here without complaint." "It is expecting rather a good deal, however, to intimate that the United States should work out a programme under which domestic prices would be high on those things with which British exports compete and low on items she must import," the paper concluded.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.

Near December benefited chiefly from price-fixing while other months suffered moderately from hedging. Following early hesitancy which emphasised uncertainty over the labour situation, the market steadily improved under the influence of persistent price-fixing in near December and week-end covering in other positions. Bullish statistical features and the increasing effects of the holding movement in the South remained the chief supporting influences. The market closed firm.

Silver Industry To Flourish In Producing Countries

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 16, (U. P. A): The Mexican Stock Exchange organ, "El Bolsin Financiero", today said that England's lifting of the ban on private purchases of foreign silver plus the U. S. increase in the price of foreign silver will make the industry flourish in silver producing countries.

The publication said that nothing can favourably substitute silver despite talk that plastics eventually will replace many metals, adding that inadequate transportation is hampering Mexican silver production, but facilities are gradually improving.

BANK OF ENGLAND 'FREES' SILVER

LONDON, Nov. 13: The Bank of England has decided to discontinue its wartime role of buyer and seller in the silver market. It is handing over this job to four or five City bullion brokers.

While the Bank will not continue to act as the middle-man in the silver market, it will retain the power of supervising the dealing of the City brokers who will have to apply for allocation of dollars to enable them to buy silver from abroad. The brokers will re-sell the silver to industrial users in the United Kingdom.

Britain's present chief source of supply is the United States where the brokers will have to pay 90-1/2 cents per ounce. The controlled price in the U. K. is 55-1/2d. per ounct.

Announcing the new plan a Bank of England spokesman said: 'It will not be a free market with brokers competing on every-man-for-himself-basis because the deals will be supervised by the Bank to whom the brokers must apply for permission to be given dollars if they are buying in the United States".

INDIA CAN HOLD UP HER HEAD DESPITE DIFFICULTIES

Mrs. Pandit Speaks About Struggle At India League Of America Reception

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (Reuter): Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit speaking tonight at a reception given by "The India League of America" to Indian Delegates to the United Nations General Assembly said: "We regard the struggle of Indians in South Africa as a symbolic one. We look on what is happening in South Africa as a very grave challenge and unless the people who today are forming policies of the world realise how deep the current of hatred is, this discrimination, they will find, will once again bring the world into a conflict greater than it has ever known.

The question should not be dealt with emotionally but in a manner which will peaceably solve the situation which has already sown seeds of very grave consequences. It threatens to envelop the whole human race if it is allowed to grow. We have to combine and do our very best to deal with it on a moral and political basis—on a basis that, what is said in the United Nations charter must be implemented and will not become a mockery".

Mrs Pandit asserted that India could stand and hold up her head in spite of difficulties. "In spite of coercion Indian has retained her moral values and has never been side-tracked from moral issues. We are still far from independence in India but a large number of people in India today know that independence is not so much a political condition as a state of mind".

Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, leader of the Indian Delegation to the United Nations, "So long as the world is divided on ground of colour and its ability to conform to one set standard, there will be renewed conflict from generation to generation". She gave as "glaring examples" of the discrimination the policy of South Africa towards Indians residing there and "the proposal of South Africa to annex South West Africa on the basis of cleverly exploited myth to the effect that the peoples of those areas had asked for incorporation of their territory".

"In defence of these actions, historical evidence is cited and the teachings of Christianity are torn from their context. But the fact is that these attempts are made to safeguard the maintenance of white supremacy and civilization and they cannot and must not be tolerated by right-minded people".
